The Bulletin of Psychological Type
Fourth Issue - 2008
Theme: How have my type preferences impacted my life?
Invitation to submit brief article
Deadline: Monday, Sept. 1, 2008

Dear APTi and APT Chapter Members,

We want your help. The theme for the next APTi Bulletin of Psychological Type is "How have your type preferences impacted your life?" We want to feature member stories because we believe that type practitioners can learn from one another's stories and experiences. Would you share a story or two from your own life with our readers? We're interested in anything you'd like to contribute. Here are some starting points, if you need a little boost:

Aha! That's probably why (Mom, Brother, Sister, Boss, or Whomever) thinks or feels that way. Knowing that, I can ...

I'm glad I know my type preferences now, but I wish I would have known them when ...

In my life, knowledge of my type preferences allows me to ...

To give you a few more details:

- Deadline for submitting your story for the fall issue is September 1, 2008.
- The story can be anything from 100 to 500 words.

We hope that you will write something, and please feel free to share this request with anyone with a story to tell about how type has impacted his or her life. Please contact Gayle Veltman <bpteditor@cox.net <<mailto:bpteditor@cox.net>>>, editor of the Bulletin, if you have questions or would like to contribute to this issue.

Thanks for thinking about this!
